Introduction

Mental health can be described as a state of wellbeing in which an individual realises their own abilities, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and is able to contribute to their community. Mental health is a fundamental aspect of overall health and wellbeing and encompasses an individual's emotional, psychological and social wellbeing and influences how people think, feel and behave, how they respond to stress, how they relate to others and how they make decisions in everyday life.

Everyone has mental health, and an individual's mental health can change over time in response to personal, social, environmental and situational factors. Understanding mental health therefore forms an important part of promoting health, wellbeing and supportive communities.

Qualification Objective

The STA Award in Mental Health Awareness qualification is designed to provide learners with the knowledge, understanding and skills required to recognise when an individual may be experiencing a mental health difficulty or emotional distress.

Target Learners

The STA Award in Mental Health Awareness is suitable for learners who want to raise their awareness of mental health at work or in voluntary and community activities, or for personal interest and development.

Entry Requirements

- Be 16 years of age or older at time of assessment.

There are no previous qualifications or experience required, however it is advisable that learners have a minimum of level 1 in literacy and numeracy or equivalent.

Qualification Validity Period / Requirements

This qualification is valid for a period of 3 years. Learners need to retake the qualification before the certificate expiry date to remain qualified.

Health and Safety Executive (HSE) strongly recommends that first aiders undertake annual refresher training during any three-year certification period. This will help learners maintain their skills and keep up-to-date with any changes to first aid procedures.

Providing a learner's STA Award in Mental Health Awareness certificate has not expired by more than 1 calendar month (e.g. expired on 5th, started course on or before 4th of the following month), the contact hours may be reduced to 5 hours over 1 day.

STA Mental Health Awareness requalifications can be delivered:

- Fully face-to-face (5 hours)
- Via blended learning using a combination of distance learning through STA Mental Health online programme or live remote tutor-led online sessions (up to 2 hours), and face-to-face delivery (minimum 3 hours).

Note: Distance learning must be completed prior to the face-to-face element and all assessments must take place face-to-face.

Learners must be assessed against all learning outcomes and assessment criteria in the units. To attend the shorter re-qualification course, learners should provide evidence of their previous STA Award in Mental Health Awareness qualification.

Progression

STA Award in Mental Health Awareness holders may wish to develop knowledge and skills further by completing the STA Award in Mental Health First Aid or additional STA first aid qualifications or CPDs.

Alternatively, learners may wish to complete additional STA qualifications such as manual handling, fire marshal, lifesaving, swimming teaching and pool plant, to support a career in the leisure industry.

Assessment Format

Assessment Methods

STA Award in Mental Health Awareness is tutor assessed through an end of course multiple-choice question theory assessment paper.

The multiple-choice question theory assessment paper is to be completed independently by learners under exam conditions, with the tutor or other approved person, acting as the invigilator. Learners must achieve a minimum mark or higher to successfully pass the multiple-choice question theory assessment paper.

All learning outcomes and assessment criteria in the units must be achieved in line with the most current version of the STA Mental Health resource manual in order for the learner to be deemed competent and pass the qualification.

Tutors should refer to the STA Mental Health Awareness assessment strategy document for detailed guidance on the assessment process.

Re-assessment

If a learner is unsuccessful in the course assessment, the learner is only required to re-sit the required assessment element, for example, if a learner fails the multiple-choice question theory assessment paper, they are only required to re-sit the unit(s) they failed.

The re-sit of an assessment must be completed within 6 weeks from the original assessment date. All re-takes must be registered with Safety Training Awards.

Due to the type of qualification being a license to practice competency-based qualification, we can only permit 1 assessment re-sit. If a learner has been unsuccessful following a re-sit, the learner must undertake another full course of instruction.

Reasonable Adjustments and Special Considerations

Safety Training Awards is committed to ensuring individuals with additional needs, disabilities, temporary illness or injury, or other adverse circumstance outside their control, are not unfairly disadvantaged when undertaking first aid qualifications or assessments. For further information, please refer to the policies section on the Safety Training Awards website: https://www.safetytrainingawards.co.uk/policies/
